Drew Bodway brings over 20 years of expertise to BLC Community Bank as the VP of Mortgage Lending, a role he's held since March 2018. Specializing in Construction, Conventional, and Commercial Real Estate loans, Drew excels in guiding clients through the financial pathways that align with their personal and business goals.

His approachable personality and extensive experience make him a trusted advisor and an integral part of the BLC Community Bank team, where he continues to make significant impacts both within the bank and in the wider community.

Drew's advice for new clients:

"I love helping people understand all their financing choices so we can pick what works best for their goals. Going local with your financing isn't just good for our economy—it means you get more personalized, hands-on help too!"

A Fox Valley Tech graduate with a degree in Police Science, Drew's roots run deep in the Appleton, WI community where he resides with his wife, Kerri, and their five children. Passionate about the outdoors, he enjoys hunting, water sports, and quality time at the family cottage.
