Melissa, who most refer to as Mel, is a lifelong Fox Valley resident. She has over 20 years of banking experience and has spent much of her professional career in retail banking. Mel hopes to be an essential component in the growth of BLC’s customer base and retail services. Her quality of professionalism allows her to provide customized services to her customers so they can accomplish their short- and long-term financial goals. Specializing in both loans and deposits, Mel is committed to providing superior service for her customers.

Mel’s advice for new clients:

“I strongly believe in relationship banking, and am committed to providing superior service to every customer I work with.”

Mel spends much of her free time with her husband Dennis, her three step children and their two foster children. She is also involved with various civic and community organizations.
