Melissa, known to most as Mel, is a lifelong resident of Fox Valley with over 25 years of banking experience. Much of her professional career has been dedicated to retail banking, where she has honed her skills in both loans and deposits. As Vice President and Private Banker at BLC, Mel aims to be an essential component in the growth of the bank's customer base and retail services.

Her commitment to professionalism enables her to deliver customized services tailored to help customers achieve their short- and long-term financial goals. Mel strongly believes in the power of relationship banking and is dedicated to providing superior service to every customer she works with.

Mel's advice for new clients:

"I strongly believe in relationship banking and am committed to providing superior service to every customer I work with."

In her free time, Mel enjoys spending time with her husband, Dennis, their two children, three stepchildren, and two grandsons. She is also actively involved in various civic and community organizations, reflecting her dedication to her community both professionally and personally.
